Summer Fun @ the Library

FROM THE DIRECTOR'S SHELF

Giving Thanks To Our Volunteers

Henderson County Public Library volunteers recently gathered at the Chariot in Hendersonville to celebrate and be thanked for the valuable service they provide to our Henderson County communities.

Over the past year, more than 200 dedicated volunteers donated a combined total of 17,782 hours throughout our library system.

This generosity provided nearly $250,000 of labor and support to help our library system thrive. Henderson County Library is immensely grateful for the contributions made by each of our volunteers.

Library volunteers wear many hats:

- ◆ They help process new books.
- ◆ They provide patron assistance.
- ◆ They assist with genealogy research.
- ◆ They return books back to their shelves.
- ◆ They assist with delivery to our homebound residents.
- ◆ And much, much more!

For this dedication to serve in so many impactful ways, we want to extend a very big THANK YOU!

- Trina Rushing, Library Director

Our volunteers come from all backgrounds and walks of life.

Turn to page 8 to hear one of their many journeys.

Samantha Shearin, Youth Services Librarian

After graduating in December 2017 with my Masters of Library Science from East Carolina University, I found myself on the hunt for a librarian position. I wanted to find a library with a reputation for dedication to its community and was blessed to receive a position here. I have previously worked in circulation for the public library in Onslow County and for youth services in the Gibsonville Public Library. These experiences have instilled in me a love of helping others, promoting literacy in all its forms, and advancing access to information for all patrons. I am a passionate perfectionist, and more than happy to be working in the youth services department.

Vanessa Warmingham, Circulation Assistant

I am a New York native and previously worked in fashion design before coming to WNC to work for a year in the Department of Public Instruction's Migrant Education Program as an AmeriCorps VISTA. Last year I started with the library as an auxiliary staff member, fulfilling a dream of mine to work in a public library. I feel lucky to begin my library career in Henderson County and look forward to getting to know our community better. When not at the library I am probably hiking with my three dogs or trying to make my family up north jealous of our weather.

Claire Dubois, Circulation Assistant

I've called WNC home for 10 years, though I was born and raised in Western Maryland. I fell in love with the culture and the beauty of the mountains while attending Montreat College and haven't left since! As a history student in college I worked in the campus library and later completed an internship at The Mojave Desert Heritage and Cultural Association, a museum and archive dedicated to preserving the history of ghosted-out mining towns. I am delighted to be able to serve the community through working in the library and every day I look forward to spending the day in an environment where knowledge, curiosity, and imagination are celebrated.

The Line Becomes a River: Dispatches from the Border

Francisco Cantú. From Riverhead Books.
★★★★☆ (363 reviews)

Henderson County Public Library Review
STAFF PICK OF THE WEEK

CLICK HERE TO SEE MORE STAFF PICKS.

For Francisco Cantú, the border is in the blood: his mother, a park ranger and daughter of a Mexican immigrant, raised him in the scrublands of the Southwest. Haunted by the landscape of his youth, Cantú joins the Border Patrol. He and his partners are posted to remote regions crisscrossed by drug routes and smuggling corridors, where they learn to track other humans under blistering sun and through frigid nights. They haul in the dead and deliver to detention those they find alive. Cantú tries not to think where the stories go from there. Plagued by nightmares, he abandons the Patrol for civilian life. But when an immigrant friend travels to Mexico to visit his dying mother and does not return, Cantú discovers that the border has migrated with him, and now he must know the whole story.

REGIONAL ROUNDUP

In local author events, the library hosted the release of Ann B. Ross's new book, Miss Julia Raises the Roof and Amy Duernberger with Exploring the Southern Appalachian Grassy Balds. Jennifer McGaha visits the library on Thursday, June 14th at 5:30pm to discuss her bestseller memoir Flat Broke with Two Goats (see article at right for more info). For a brief time in the 1930s, The Great Gatsby author F. Scott Fitzgerald made Hendersonville his home and a new novel Another Side of Paradise by Sally Koslow fictionalizes the author's drinking and infidelity in the years that followed. Another author whose debut Summit Lake was eerily similar in the setting and name to Tuxedo's Lake Summit, Charlie Donlea has a new thriller Don't Believe It.

Cold Mountain author Charles Frazier's new book is about a reluctant bride of the Confederacy called Varina. For something closer to home in local historical fiction, read a recently republished The Land Breakers by the late Asheville historian and novelist John Ehle who passed away this spring and a new book by Taylor Brown, Gods of Howl Mountain. Additional Southern gothic novels to check out are Country Dark by Chris Offut and Heaven's Crooked Finger by Hank Early.

Even more regional titles include Janet Beard's take on the Hidden Figures story, Atomic City Girls about the secret lives of Oak Ridge, Tennessee. Civil Rights in Winston-Salem take center stage in Elaine Neil Orr's Swimming Between Worlds or try Treborne by Caleb Johnson, about a black orchardist and the many layers of history in Alabama. In a dark and literary look at the War on Terror, try Small Treasons by NC author Mark Powell, or for something on a lighter note, there's a book of stories by Lauren Groff called simply, Florida.

Lastly, it wouldn't be summer without beach reads and some light romance. The High Tide Club by Mary Kay Andrews about an eccentric millionaire fits the bill, and Denise Hunter's Blue Ridge Sunrise and Honeysuckle Dreams are both part of a new series.

Thanks for reading!

- Ed Graves,

Branch & Collection Coordinator

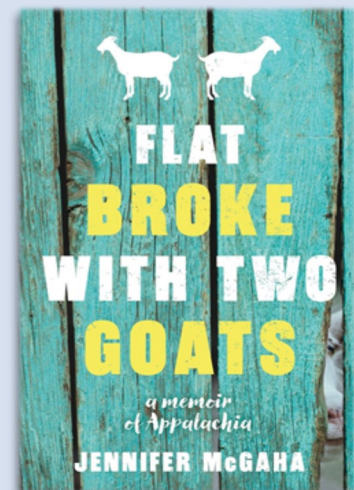

Local author Jennifer McGaha's 2018 memoir Flat Broke with Two Goats is garnering rave reviews locally and nationally, following her story of returning to Western North Carolina to homestead, raise goats, and reconsider ideas of home, happiness, and security.

In April, the book was selected for the national Big Library Read.

Jennifer will speak about her book at the Main Library on Thursday, June 14th at 5:30pm.

Books will be available for sale.

hooonuit

Patrons now have access to two new resources— Legal Information Reference Center and Hoonuit, a collection of software and technology training videos. Both resources can be found on the library’s Research webpage under the General Research link.

Legal Information Reference Center gives patrons access to thousands of legal forms from all fifty states and the contents of over 500 legal reference books.

Hoonuit is an adult learning resource with an emphasis on technology and career learning. Hoonuit courses are built around short video lessons and include topics such as business writing and using Excel 2016.

This summer, staff will host multiple sessions across library locations to introduce patrons to these great new resources.

UPCOMING RESOURCE DEMONSTRATIONS

Do you want to research your family history, but don’t know where to start? Wish you knew more about Microsoft Excel, but need a jumpstart?

The series, Reference Resources You Should Know About, continues this summer to introduce you to online reference resources and inspire you to explore. Demonstrations last for one hour and are held in the Kaplan Auditorium of the Main Library unless otherwise noted. Attendance is free and no registration is needed. Come see what excellent resources you have at your fingertips!

If you have questions about the demonstrations or resources, please contact Mark Burdette at 697-4725, ext. 2307 or mburdette@hendersoncountync.org.

Thanks for showing the love!

363 patrons joined us for our 4th annual I Love My Library event to learn about the many services that county libraries provide and reaffirm their support of the work we do. We even had a special visitor help us paint kindness rocks to place throughout the community.

Branching Out

COMING SOON!

INTRODUCTION TO SPANISH LANGUAGE AND HISPANIC CULTURE

Mark your calendars for Introductory Spanish language classes offered at the Etowah Branch Library through Western North Carolina Language Institute.

Instructor Karlee Nichols will help you develop a firm foundation in the language and a better understanding of Spanish culture.

These classes are designed to fit the needs of a beginning language learner with no or limited exposure to the Spanish language.

Classes will be held at the Etowah Library on Tuesdays from 1-2:30pm, September 11-November 6, 2018 (no class October 30th).

Registration is required and opens August 11th.

Every day dozens of volunteers help with the daily operations of our six library locations. Nowhere is this more important than at our branch libraries, many of which depend on volunteers to maintain flexible hours.

Over the next few issues, we'll be highlighting a few of these individuals serving our community.

Once upon a time, many years ago, as a young person growing up in Park Ridge, a suburb of Chicago, Illinois, I fell in love with books, reading, and learning. A small library was located at the north end of our town near the Pickwick Theater. In the basement children's bookshelves beckoned. Upstairs the world of adult literature held treasures of world travel, unusual lives, and imaginings of science and philosophy. I longed for my 'adult' library card and admission to the wonders of 'Upstairs.' I was given permission and life has never been without access to and challenge of knowledge and wisdom.

My position as a volunteer assisting Cindy Camp-Fisher at the Edneyville Branch has allowed me to share my pleasure of reading with so many of the new friends walking through the doors of our library.

*Thank you one and all,
Mark Raymond

Ruthie Rosauer

Photography on Display at the Library

Photographer Ruthie Rosauer grew up in New Jersey where she took trees for granted. Moving to West Texas in mid-life she wept day after day in longing for trees other than the treacherous mesquite (those thorns really hurt!) or occasional cottonwood. She never took trees for granted again. She now resides in Western North Carolina with her husband and two dogs, surrounded by beautiful trees.

Her exhibit, "These Trees," runs from April 14—June 28 at the Main Library.

Her book of the same title is available for checkout from the library.

Join Ruthie Rosauer for a live program, "For the Love of Trees," at the Main Library on August 22nd at 2pm for a virtual tour of trees in all their multi-faceted splendor: roots, bark, leaves, flowers, whole trees, and intriguing shapes as sculpted by Mother Nature through the four seasons. Music, poetry, and anecdotes are woven into this 'valentine' to the arboreal world.

LIBRARIES ROCK!™

Youth Summer Reading Programs

Come find out why your Libraries Rock this summer— we will have fun music with Big Bang Boom, Didgeridoo Down Under, and others. Hands On! will bring the science of sound and show us how geology rocks. The ever-popular Snakes Alive! will return this year with shows at four branches. Teens can try to solve the breakout box, learn to play a didgeridoo, make altered book art or wire wrapped jewelry, and more! Find a full calendar of events on our website or pick one up at any branch.

Reading Challenge! Children and Teens can pick up their reading cards at any branch starting June 1st. Read books, graphic novels, magazines, or whatever else you like to read to complete your card. Turn your first card in by July 31st to pick out a free book and be entered into a prize drawing. Additional cards completed give you extra chances in our prize drawings. Our preschool friends can join the fun by picking up an activity card to complete for a free book and entry into a prize drawing.

Why is summer reading important?

Encouraging children and teens to continue reading during summer break can help improve their reading skills and prevent the summer slide.

Even reading just a little every day can make a difference.

Join us this summer as we encourage young readers.

Adult Summer Reading Program

Summer reading isn't just for the kids anymore! Pick up a reading card and record the amount of time you read between June 1st and July 31st. For every five hours of reading— books, eBooks, audiobooks, magazines, newspapers, or reading to others— you can enter for a chance to win a prize. Each library location will offer the grand prize of a Kindle Fire HD!

Library staff are ready to rock!
Stop by the Main Library to take the stage and pose with props!

- Proceeds from sales and memberships support programs at all library locations including music performances by popular performers from around the region, lectures on topics of interest from history to nature, and dozens of events for children and teens. All programs are free to the public.

- Bill Ramsey, Friends of the Library President
