Henderson County Public Library Unveils its Art Wall

HC-2017-52

Hendersonville, NC – November 16, 2017

The main branch of the Henderson County Public Library unveiled its art wall, a new space devoted to celebrating local artists and their work. The current exhibit showcases paintings, graphite drawings, and pottery from regional artists and will be viewable through December 31st.

“Art has the power to inspire and transform minds,” said Sharon Arnette, Technical Services Librarian and one of the organizers of the exhibit, “The library has always been a gathering place for our community to exchange ideas and explore new topics. This exhibit space brings the talents of our local artists to a place where the public can experience them in their daily lives.” The library plans to rotate the artwork quarterly.
